Our Roll of Honour

Many people from this area served in wars to defend Canada. Below is a list of those serving in World War II. Quite a few of them still have relatives in this rural municipality. How many of them are your relatives? Why not make an extra effort to get to Consul's Remembrance Day Service this year to honour and remember all those who served? November 8th, 2:10 pm, at the school.

THANK YOU

Govenlock, Consul and area is the most caring, fun, neighbourly place in the world! We are so lucky and grateful to be part of it. Although we are heading back west to the ranch in Alberta, you know our hearts are here! We will always be involved and work on the Reno Rodeo and Ag Society as well as the Cowgirl Cattle Co. and community projects!! Treasure what you all have here....money can't buy integrity, honesty, friendships and the sense of community and family values that is commonplace here in the SW corner. Thank you so much for everything!! We will be back—often! Open invite to visit us, too!

Love, Doug, Jill, Jimmy and Billy Richards and family XOX
P.S. The stock and we will see you at the 2014 Reno Rodeo!!

(We are 'moving' but not 'leaving'.)

Special thanks to our neighbours for the potluck supper and wishing well. We would like to donate the money to the Consul Hall.

discover what you have to give

Invitation from Canada's Governor General, David Johnston

I believe that the key to a smarter, more caring Canada lies in helping more of us discover what we have to give.

That's why I'm delighted to invite you to join My Giving Moment, a campaign that will celebrate and generate the kind of giving that, as Canadians, is in our DNA. Opportunities to give are all around us, every day. We call them "Giving Moments". They're those special moments when we see someone who needs help, something that needs changing, or other people giving. They're those moments when we suddenly realize that we can give, too.

My Giving Moment will help Canadians seize these moments, and then act upon them. It will help more of us give something, whether big or small, and whether it involves time, skills, or money.

Visit mygivingmoment.ca and learn more.
