DOUG STEELE

Saskatchewan Party MLA for Cypress Hills

The holiday season is a time to celebrate and enjoy the company of family and friends. It's a season of generosity, a time of giving and a time to give thanks.

Looking back on 2019, there have been a lot of highlights at the provincial level, including our government's tabling of a balanced budget.

Major infrastructure projects such as Saskatchewan Hospital North Battleford, Jim Pattison Children's Hospital and the Regina Bypass were opened this year.

Our government stood side by side with farmers and ranchers, energy workers and all those negatively impacted by a costly and ineffective carbon tax.

We built upon and strengthened interprovincial relations when Premiers from coast to coast to coast met in Saskatoon for the Council of the Federation.

Together through partnerships with First Nations we worked toward building a more compassionate, respectful and understanding Saskatchewan.

Not only is the holiday season a time of reflection, but it's also representative of renewal and optimism – maybe even more so now as we begin a new decade.

We need to ensure a strong economy that will support strong communities and families. That's the essence of Saskatchewan's Growth Plan for The Next Decade.

Growth supports quality of life and allows us to help and to protect the most vulnerable among us. Growth enables us to provide opportunity for young people so that they stay in Saskatchewan to build their careers and raise their families.

Saskatchewan's new Growth Plan is an ambitious plan to do just that by expanding our economy and creating jobs and opportunity in communities and across our province.

Our plan for the next decade has two overarching goals: to grow the province's population to 1.4 million people and create 100,000 more jobs.

The sectors that have driven our economy for the last decade – energy and mining, agriculture, manufacturing and forestry – will continue to drive our economy. These traditional industries will benefit as new, emerging industries like the tech sector, ag bio-tech and value-added processing are all poised for significant growth.

As your representative, I will continue working as part of our provincial government to strengthen our economy, communities and families.

From my family to yours, Merry Christmas and best wishes for good health, happiness and prosperity in the new year!

Reno Multiple 4H Club Report

By: Shiloh Derdall

The Reno Multiple 4-H Club has been up to quite a bit in the last few months. We held a food sale at the Consul School on November 6th and the proceeds went to the daycare and the senior center. There was also a toy drive. For the toy drive our club decided to purchase 4 gifts. Two of the gifts will be for boys, one older boy and one younger boy, while the other two gifts will be for girls, one older girl and one younger girl. 4-H clubs across the province had a goal of collecting 3000 pounds of food for food banks. Our club took part in this. We also did a sausage fundraiser and we appreciate everyone who bought some sausage. The annual pancake supper was November 20th. A huge thanks to our guest speakers Dr. Luke Runnion and Tess Kelly for their presentations. The beef project had a weigh day on December 2nd and there was also a general meeting the same day. The horse project had a record book meeting on December 6th. Our next event will be our annual Bingo/Bake sale on January 14th. Merry Christmas from the Reno Multiple 4-H Club!
