thank you

Dearest Consul Ranchers, Farmers, and Townspeople,

To say 'thank you' just doesn't seem like enough. We are forever grateful to everyone for making our nine years in Consul such a beautiful time for our family. It was the first place that really felt like home for me and we cherish every memory made. Bonspiels, rodeo, hockey games, church Sunday mornings, living at the rink all winter and just doing life together was a true blessing. Thank you so much for the gift! We were totally blown away by your generosity to say the least. Goodbyes are hard, change is hard and good all at once. We have nothing but thankfulness in our hearts for this past season and wish you all full grain bins, fat cows, and enough hay to make it through the winter.

With nothing but love for all of you,

Alicia, Blake, Eleanor, Frances, and Hank Jones

welcome

Welcome to our new advertiser – Action Metal – and to one of Consul's newest families, the Blatz family!

John Blatz owns and operates the business, buying scrap metal and non-ferrous materials all over Saskatchewan. He has been doing this for 7 ½ years now and enjoys the work and having his own business and setting his own hours. Plus there is the feeling of satisfaction that comes from cleaning up a site and doing his part to improve the environment.

John operates a 200 Hitachi excavator to which he can attach his magnet as needed. He also has two semi-trucks with trailers to haul the scrap to the buyers in Regina, Saskatoon or Medicine Hat. Out at the farm, he also is providing an area for people to bring their old broken fridges, stoves, washers, dryers, bicycles and the like – a great alternative to all of us having to haul them so much further.

John and Maria along with their two sons and a daughter arrived mid-March to the Zilkie farm and since then they have added a third son to the fold. Their older two are quite excited to be attending Consul School. The whole family is enjoying Consul and its friendly people and the freedom they have here. On behalf of the family, Maria says, "Thank you to all those welcoming us into this town, making us feel at home. We look forward to meeting more people."

Clubroot Soil Testing

Clubroot is a soil-borne disease caused by the pathogen Plasmodiophora brassicae. Clubroot affects the roots of cruciferous field crops such as canola, mustard, camelina, oilseed radish and taramira, and cruciferous vegetables such as arugula, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, Chinese cabbage, kale, kohlrabi, radish, rutabaga and turnip. Cruciferous weeds (such as stinkweed, shepherd's purse and wild mustard) can also serve as hosts.

Root infection of host plants by the clubroot pathogen results in swelling of the root tissue (galls), which reduces the plant's ability to obtain water and nutrients from the soil, resulting in yield loss. The level of yield loss will be related to the amount of pathogen in the soil, the susceptibility of the host crop and environmental conditions.

SARM is offering free clubroot testing analysis. We have 5 kits available to ratepayers in our RM. If you have grown canola or mustard last year or this year and would like to test your soil, please stop by the RM office.

(Kits must be back in to our office by October 29, 2020.)

Supporting a strong Saskatchewan

Just recently, we celebrated 115 years since Saskatchewan officially became a province. We can be proud of our province, its place in our country, and all that we have to offer the world. While Saskatchewan has experienced many highs and lows throughout its history, we have always been able to count on the strength and resilience of our people to carry us through.

Today, Saskatchewan is a growing province and an emerging world leader in many respects. As we continue to recover from the impact of COVID-19, our government is investing in needed infrastructure to help stimulate economic recovery and encourage local job creation.

As an example, the Municipal Economic Enhancement Program is providing $150 million in provincial funding to shovel-ready infrastructure projects in municipalities across Saskatchewan. This is a key component of our government's $7.5 billion, two-year capital stimulus plan.

To build strong communities, we must ensure that our families have access to effective and high-performing infrastructure. These key investments show our governments commitment to building strong families. This month our government released $437.4 million in new highway projects in the 2020 Fall Tender, which is the largest in Saskatchewan's history.

In total, our government has invested $9.8 billion into our transportation infrastructure since 2008. This year, our government will improve 1,000 kilometres of highway, which is the first year of our 10-year Growth Plan goal to build and upgrade 10,000 kilometres of highway.

The past few weeks have seen the announcement of new school builds, as well as the completion of others. More than $135 million of our stimulus spending will go towards four new schools, two major renovations, as well as many maintenance projects for school divisions in communities across the province.

Since 2007, our government has committed more than $1.9 billion toward school infrastructure projects. This includes 85 major school capital projects and numerous small projects such as portable classrooms and preventative maintenance and renewal.

This fall, many schools across Saskatchewan are opening their doors for the first time to an excited group of students. I am grateful for the work and guidance of school divisions to ensure our students and faculty members are able to adapt to our current reality. Though the school year will be different for most, we can be confident knowing that our students are in good hands. I wish all students and school staff the very best as we return to class in what has been a particularly challenging year.
